

Performance Buildings Recycles Office Space into Low Cost Meeting Rooms and Desks – First pbOffice Site is in Zurich City

Zurich, 07 May 2011 - Business travellers and local professionals in Zurich have an innovative alternative to renting office space. A range of eco-friendly, cost effective meeting rooms and work points are available through pbOffice (www.pb-office.com). Comfortable, spacious, and affordable, these Zurich meeting rooms and work points represent forward thinking in green business by recycling unused office space into viable business solutions.

In Switzerland alone, 4.3% of office space (more than 2,000,000 m<sup>2</sup>) lies empty and has to be heated, cooled and maintained. The CO<sub>2</sub> emissions are equivalent to the amount 20,000 cars produce annually. pbOffice challenges this environmentally unfriendly status quo by turning lazy real estate in Zurich into self-service meeting rooms or work points.

Conveniently situated in the heart of the city, the first pbOffice site is at Badenerstrasse 141 which is only 9 minutes by tram from Zurich main station. The facilities boast an ample conference room able to seat 22 people, ideal for boardroom meetings and training activities. The site also provides smaller meeting rooms and personal work points. Privacy and security are always assured.

There are no contracts, allowing businesses the flexibility to rent office space according to their needs, preventing wasted expenditure. A range of rates are available. Conference rooms are available from CHF 16 an hour or from CHF 105 a day. Desks are available from CHF 4 an hour, CHF 26 a day, CHF 119 a week or CHF 430 a month.

The concept of recycling office space is as rewarding to businesses who provide the space as it is to those who rent it. Properties that use pbOffice to rent out unused meetings rooms and work points in Switzerland not only create sustainable business practices, but they also generate extra income and receive the benefit of brand exposure. In a competitive market, this extra income is helpful in maintaining space with high technological standards, such as video conferencing.

Performance Buildings provides cloud based services for creating a network of ecological and economical self-service work places. pbOffice is its premiere offering in Switzerland for recycled office space.
